BIOGRAPHY

Pomerlo is a singer and songwriter (French/pop-world) native of Black Lake, a small mining town in Quebec province (Canada). Since the age of 15 he was part of musical bands such as Opérabong with whom he toured Quebec in the early 2000s.

He began his solo project in 2008 with his album Casa Voyageur received by critics as a sunbeam. He had the opportunity to share the stage with artists such as Jérôme Minière and Les Cowboys Fringants. In 2011, his opus Quartier Populaire gets considerable broadcasting in the Quebec regions and major radio stations such as Sirius XM and Espace Musique. Several songs reach the top 1. His videoclip "Chanteur en tournée" is also added to Musimax channel.

For this third album, Pomerlo went to Paris to work with director Dave Kynner, leading musician of Tiken Jah Fakoly, award-winner of two gold records. Légende Personnelle comes as a breath of fresh air for the Quebec francophone genre with the unique blend of pop-world Pomerlo and collaboration of musicians with impressive roadmap (Fugees, Tiken Jah Fakoly, Alpha Blondy, The Wailers, Sergent Garcia, Ray Charles, Salif Keita...). He also performed in duo with the great African singer Safiata Condé.

Pomerlo introduces an inspired pop music (...) This gives quite sunny and joyful melodies, and his lyrics are well written.
